

Does Everyone Belong to God?

I am Catholic.

I am Episcopalian.

I am Baptist.

I am Presbyterian.

My god is my denomination.

There is no other god.

I am Pakistani.

I am Muslim.

I am Buddhist.

I am Hindu.

No matter what the proclamation,
there is no other god.

Are all but short distortions
screaming their part,
scratching out each others eyes
and piercing each others heart?

Is Christ the Lord of all?

Does Christ claim all humanity,
not just Christendom?

Does everyone belong to God
and not but some?

Is no one separated from the love of Christ,
As told in Romans eight?

Then why is it that we proclaim
one only, my own faith?

Is it the gospel of the Christians
or the gospel of Jesus Christ,
or the gospel for all nations,
not of death but rather life?

Is all this syncretism,
a merging of all that differs
or is it relativism,
that all beliefs are true?

Will that day come when all will see religionless Christianity?
when missionaries cease,
when all belong to God
since Christ is hidden there in everyone and everywhere?
